Enormous Crowds Meet to Do Honor to Russia's Ruler.

More Than a Quarter of a Million of People Had Assembled Where Military Maneuvers were to be Executed.

Special by wire to Times-Democrat.
Lima, Sept. 21.—At Bethany near here where the military maneuvers in honor of the czar are going on, 250,000 spectators crowded about the sham battle field today. Special stands erected for distinguished guests were soon packed till the last moment, then the pressure of the crowd smashed all barriers and a panic followed in which several women were crushed. Many killed, and many more were injured, some fatally so far as known. The troops took part in the sham battle and review.

Under the inspiration of the presence of the czar, the French soldiers to regain historic ardor, precision and military pride of the old empire. The review today was the greatest military pageant since the second empire. 140,000 troops, armed by the czar and it took hours to review. The downpour of rain did not dampen the enthusiasm.

ENTRANCE

Of Lines Into Ft. Wayne Discussed.

D. J. Cable was Present at the Meeting

And Informed the Commercial Club That All Right of Way was Practically Secured.

The entrance of interurban electric lines into Fort Wayne received a pretty thorough discussion at the special meeting of the Commercial club Thursday evening, says the Fort Wayne Sentinel, and incidentally there were occasional tilts of a mild sort between representatives of the Fort Wayne Traction company and the interurban interests.

General Manager Scott, of the Fort Wayne Traction company, said that nobody representing the Southwestern company had indicated to his company any desire to enter the city over the local lines; no statement had been made of what they wanted from the Fort Wayne Traction company, if anything. Mr. Nelson had asked him if he would move the tracks on Main street to permit another line to come over that route. This, he said, could not be considered, but that he had told Mr. Nelson he was willing to make satisfactory arrangements for the use of the city company's tracks. Mr. Cable, who is at the head of the project to build a line from Lima, Ohio, had asked for a proposition and received it. The Lima people were willing to divide the city fare and pay $3 per car on express, with $1 fee for switching. There is not a great deal of difference between them on this proposition.

D. J. Cable, of Lima, Ohio, was present, and when introduced said his company had secured practically all the franchises and right-of-way to Ft. Wayne; he preferred a terminal traffic arrangement with the Fort Wayne company if that company could extend their tracks so as to take the Lima cars at the city limits; otherwise his company expected to ask for a separate entrance. He thought the interurban question of great importance to Fort Wayne, and the matter should be adjusted without delay.

Hustling Will Have to be Done

To Carry the Machine Co.'s Proposition.

Canvassers are Requested to Give Another Day or Two to the Work so Nearly Completed.

The Lima Machine Company lot proposition has not been brought to a successful issue as yet and it will take a little more hustling on the part of the canvassing committees to complete what is so nearly accomplished. The following notice issued by secretary Wm. F. Numan, of the board of trade, will explain the situation as it now stands:

To the Citizens of Lima:—
The Board of Trade entered into an agreement with the Lima Locomotive & Machine Company to dispose of five hundred and thirty-seven lots. There remain unsold 25 lots in Class C, 11 lots in class H, and one in class F. If according to our agreement must be sold before the drawing can take place. There are over-sold 11 class D and one class E, so if any of the lot owners in the classes D and E wish to exchange for lots in C and H, they should notify the Lima Locomotive & Machine Co., or Wm. F. Numan. By doing so, it will decrease the number of lots to be sold in C and H and F. The H lots are all the lots on Woodlawn avenue marked B.

The following committee will please meet at the Lima House at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday, the 24th, and Wednesday the 25th:

H. D. Campbell, A. C. Reichelderfer, F. M. Dell, C. H. Folsom, J. W. Rowland, J. O. Hoyer, F. E. Harman, F. W. Holmes, W. T. Agester, A. S. Bowers, L. E. Stamets, L. H. Rogers, George Feltz, Harry Albrecht, A. Weikelbaum, H. F. Vorkamp, E. M. Gooding, D. C. Henderson, Harold Cunningham, E. Christen, C. F. Stelzenbach, Wm. Woolery, A. G. Lutz, A. D. Neuman, A. L. White, Amos Young, W. L. Mackenzie, E. B. Mitchell, in fact we want all of the old committee that has done such good work before. One good hard day's work will clear this up so that the drawing will take place at once, and the work on the new shops be begun.

Yours truly,
W. F. NUMAN, Sec'y.

DICK

Must Bear the Onus of It.

He and Hanna

Would Not Permit a Change in Program

Of Conducting the State Campaign in Ohio This Fall,

Whereby, in Deference to Memory of President McKinley Much Noise of the Campaign Might be Eliminated.

Columbus, O., Sept. 21.—If the voters of Ohio are to be dragged this year from the bliss of a martyred president into the maelstrom of partisan politics, the responsibility for that unhappy event will be upon the Republican state executive committee, dominated by Senator Hanna and Chairman Dick, and cannot be shifted to other shoulders. The Republican managers have been given every opportunity by their Democratic opponents to eliminate partisan discussion from the campaign and permit the period of 29 days' national mourning in view of the assassination of President McKinley, to be observed in accordance with the temper of the people at this time. Thus far, however, the Republican committee has failed to respond and show no signs of recognizing the proprieties.

The Democratic managers, with the full consent and cooperation of Col. Kilbourne, have therefore determined to assume an attitude that will place the Republicans in the position of retreating what shall be done with reference to the campaign: whether the people's mourning shall be invaded by the politicians, or whether their desire shall be honored for protection against dragging them from the grave to the rostrum. The Democratic committee will make no announcements and take no action, except as required by the course pursued by the Republican committee. If the Republicans bill the state with speakers, the Democrats will follow suit. The responsibility of plunging the state from mourning into a noisy campaign will be made to rest entirely with Governor Nash, Senator Hanna and the Republican committee.

This is the determination of the Democratic managers, approved by all the candidates on the Democratic ticket, and no man can say that it is not an eminently proper one under the circumstances. The people will judge on election day between the propriety of the course to be pursued by the two committees.

The startling change that has taken place in the personnel of the national administration has more sweeping effect in Ohio than in any other state of the Union. While events have not yet shaped themselves so as to determine exactly what the result, politically speaking, of President McKinley's death will be in this state, almost the unanimous sentiment of Republicans here is to the effect that the domination of Hanna is at an end so far as the national administration is concerned, and that "the power behind the throne" will be transferred to New York. It should be remembered, however, that Hanna is still chairman of the Republican national committee, is the head and centre of the national organization and still commands the vast fund wrung from the trusts and protected monopolies that has played such an important part in the politics of the country since he came upon the scene of action.

Moreover, it should not be forgotten that the continued power of the Cleveland boss in Ohio hangs today upon the reelection of Governor Nash and is in no wise affected by the death of the president. If Nash is reelected, Hanna will continue to be the all-powerful, dominating influence in Ohio politics, no matter what President Roosevelt's attitude toward him may be. He will distribute the state patronage as heretofore, continue his henchmen in the organization as it is now constituted, dominate the Republican majority in the legislature, if there is one, and in all essentials continue in the discharge of the supreme political functions he now arrogates to himself.

The defeat of Nash will mean the direct opposite of all this and will in a measure rehabilitate the Republican party for the next national campaign. It will eliminate Hanna as both a state and national power. If Nash is defeated, it will be regarded by the Republicans of Ohio that a change in the national leadership is necessary to salvation, and they will act accordingly. Hanna will serve out his purchased term in the senate, will not be a candidate for re-election and will retire to his former obscurity as a lobbyist, or spend the remainder of his days in elegant ease made possible by the fortune he has accumulated by blending politics with business. Dick, Malloy and the whole Hanna crowd will follow their chief and the state organization will be left to other hands.

For these reasons, if for no others, there will be a great deal of independent voting by Republicans in Ohio this year, while Democrats will have every incentive to poll their full party strength.

Hon. John L. Zimmerman, of Springfield, who made such a favorable impression on the late Democratic state convention when he stood as Clark county's candidate for governor, has accepted the invitation of the state committee to make a series of speeches for Colonel Kilbourne. If events make an active campaign the order of the day, Mr. Zimmerman will be one of the most conspicuous figures in it.

Colonel Kilbourne returned yesterday from Canton, where he attended the sad obsequies of the late president as the official representative of the Ohio Democracy. His presence at the funeral should have suggested to Hanna and Dick the propriety of "calling off" the campaign, as proposed by Chairman Daugherty in view of the national tragedy that has just been enacted; but there is no evidence that it had such an effect. If an active campaign is rendered necessary by the course of the Republicans, Colonel Kilbourne will be under the assignment of the Democratic committee after today. If not, he will merely respond informally to invitations and meet the people quietly during the month and a half that must elapse before election.

Developed Nothing Sensational During Day.

Special by wire to Times-Democrat.
Washington, Sept. 21.—The Schley court developed nothing sensational this morning. Commander Harber was on the stand all morning, describing the movement of the fleet off Cienfuegos from May 24 to June 2.

Commander Schroeder, at the afternoon session said two things were left undone that might have been done in the effort to destroy the Colon May 31. The American vessels might have gone in closer and they might have attacked more slowly during the firing.

CLAIM

Is Made That State Board

Has No Power

To Raise the Valuation of Railroads

But That Such Power is Vested in the County Auditors of Ohio.

Tip Given to These Officials That Will Probably Not be Forgotten When Another Opportunity Comes.

Special by wire to Times-Democrat.
Columbus, Sept. 21.—The board of equalization heard arguments today in reply to the contention of Tom L. Johnson that railway valuations should be increased from one hundred and sixty million to three hundred million. The railways contended that the state board has no power to raise valuations made by county auditors. Until this legal point is settled, nothing more will be done by the board. Should the state attorney general decide adversely to Johnson in this matter his only redress will be to sue in the courts.

Special by wire to Times-Democrat.

BOSSES

Price were appointed a committee to go to the rear end of the convention room and notify McComb that he had been nominated. He was waiting for them and consequently there was no delay in getting him before the convention to thank the delegates for what they had done.

After the mayor's speech of acceptance, which wasn't written on 711 pages of type-written foolscap, the committee on resolutions reported with resolutions that paid a very worthy tribute to the late President and then accused the Democrats of being crooked and demanded an investigation of every office in the county. The resolutions were adopted.

COULDN'T

Find a Man in the Convention Who Would Run for Office of Treasurer.

Charley Rumbough called for nominations for candidates for the office of treasurer but they couldn't find a man in the convention who was willing to be nominated and they selected Thomas H. Jones, who was not present to defend himself.

For the position on the ticket as candidate for county commissioner some one nominated R. T. Sutton, of Amanda township, and there being no opposition, he was placed in nomination by acclamation.

For county infirmity director the names of John W. Peltier and Stephen Greer were presented to the convention. Greer declared he would not have the nomination and as Peltier was not present, he was nominated by acclamation.

There was a scrap started when the call was made for nomination for candidates for coroner, Dr. L. F. Laudick being nominated by Gus Kaib and Dr. A. S. Rudy being nominated by A. J. Morris. One ballot was taken and Dr. Rudy was nominated, receiving 163 votes and Dr. Laudick receiving 42 votes. Dr. Rudy was called on for a speech and he responded, saying, that it looked like foolishness to accept a nomination on the Republican ticket in Allen county.

Rumbough forgot that there was to be a candidate for representative nominated and was called to time by Doc Hall who said, he for one, didn't intend to have the matter overlooked because he had a man whom he wanted nominated. He mentioned J. L. B. Leatherman, of Harrod, and as no one dared show their hand against Doc Leatherman was given the nomination by acclamation. He was called on for a speech and responded saying that he would be elected if enough Democrats would vote for him, which didn't seem at all likely. The convention concluded that enough had been done to hold the Republican voters in line until next time the bosses want something done so it adjourned after authorizing the county central committee to fill vacancies on the county ticket in case any of the candidates who were drafted refused to be led to the November slaughter.

GEN. BOTHA

Will Hold British Prisoners as Hostages.

Against the Possible Carrying Out of the Terms Expressed in Kitchener's Proclamation Issued.

London, Sept. 21.—The succession of "regrettable incidents" which Lord Kitchener has reported has evoked editorial counsels to the government to cease to endeavor to wage war by proclamations and to recognize the need of crushing the Boers by force of arms. No news has yet been received that the Boers have liberated the prisoners recently captured, and, according to Boer circles in Brussels, Commandant General Botha intends to hold the 160 British prisoners as hostages against the carrying out of the terms of Lord Kitchener's proclamation.

THE STAGE

Tonight—The Land O' Cotton.
All next week—The Murry Comedy Company.

"The Land O' Cotton" is playing to the usual crowd this afternoon—the theatre crowded with laughing, cheering, happy children and pleased grown folks. It is no reflection on the former matinee attractions provided at the Faurot to say that "The Land O' Cotton" is the best that has yet been furnished.

The scenery is very beautiful, and the play and company, which includes the famous Mill. G. Barlow, is most excellent.

"The Land O' Cotton" will be repeated tonight, and popular prices will prevail.

Time was when a matinee in Lima was a rarity. Managers who had the temerity to play one were disgusted with the meager attendance, and the manager of the theatre wondered if Lima would ever awaken to the advantages afforded the larger cities.

Now all is changed. Manager Cunningham has opened the theatre every Saturday afternoon to a crowd that has filled it completely and the matinee has grown to be an institution.

To the blaze theatre-goer the audiences at these matinees are fully as entertaining as the play. One can watch the faces of the children and see the entire story of the drama. Every telling line and situation provided by the dramatist is reflected in their faces and there is no thought of "form" to restrain their honest young impulses. The hero, the heroine, the comedian and the soubrette are all received with rapturous cheers, but when the villain strides upon the scene, momentarily triumphant, they jump from their seats to their feet and hiss him as vigorously as the most experienced gallery god.

And the lesson taught—the triumph of vice and the degradation of virtue—could it be better put before them.

Another treat is in store for the patrons of the Faurot. The Murry Comedy Company will open a week's engagement, Monday, September 23, at popular prices, and have selected for their opening play a four-act comedy drama, "The Black Flag." Messrs. Smith and Lamb have surrounded themselves with a selected company of twenty-two people, all artists in their respective lines, and a car load of special scenery. Special permission has been secured for producing a line of plays never before been seen in repertoire. New and novel specialties will be seen between acts, and will be kept to the standard. Every lady accompanied by a person with a paid thirty cent ticket will be admitted free on opening night.

That funny conceit, "Hello Bill," follows the Murry Comedy Company at the Faurot. This play will be remembered as one of the pronounced hits of last season.

The Murry Comedy Company will offer an unusually meritorious repertoire next week. The plays to be produced are "The Black Flag," "Nature's Nobleman," "Pride and Poverty," "Hearts of Kentucky," "The New Partner," "Queen's Evidence," "David Garrick," and "Because."

Among the early attractions at the Faurot will be "The Evil Eye" and the Chicago opera company. The latter will play a matinee and evening engagement at popular prices, presenting Genee's "The Woman Hater."

William Collier, who made his first big hit in "The Man from Mexico" is quite a baseball player, and at the Buffalo Midway last summer he won eight cigars by hitting the head of the usually elusive colored man eight times. As he did not wish to take chances and smoke the cigars he gave them to a girl who ran a soda fountain for her paternal ancestor. "Thanks," she said gratefully; "they'll do for father." Utica, New York, Captured the Big
$1,000 Purse and George P.
Lull Proved to be the Best Basso.

"The Lima-Ada choral society was awarded second prize in the contest at Buffalo." Is the gratifying news which came by wire this morning, and while there would have been more cause for celebrating had the judges been even more favorably impressed and presented that Owen's class with the big $1,000 gift, there is enough glory in the fact that second prize is a high and lasting honor considering the occasion. Additional good news came with the announcement that Geo. P. Lull, the basso, who has been singing in the churches here for the past few weeks, and who entered the contest with the Lima society, was the winner of first prize as a soloist.

There were but three societies entered in the main contest. Utica, New York, Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Lima, and Utica won first honors. It would have been more interesting had there been a half dozen or more contesting choruses, and more honor attached to the capturing of a prize, but the opportunity was there for any city in the land, and it is pleasant to know that Lima has an organization of singers so well trained that no contest is too great or high classed but what they feel perfectly safe in entering.

TOUCHING

Incident of Sorrowful
Thursday.

Passenger Train Stopped in an Open Field

And Affecting Services were Conducted for Ten Minutes Which Moved Many Persons to Tears.

There were many impressive incidents noted on the day that President McKinley was buried, and among them is one which occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad one mile east of Dixon, which is thus told in the Chicago Record-Herald by a correspondent, who was on the train.

"Acting under the general order issued by President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, Conductor M. O. Ginty, of Lima, who had charge of the New York and Chicago express, brought his train to a standstill at 2:30 o'clock. As it happened the train was four hours late, and at that time was about to cross the Ohio line into Indiana. Upon Ohio soil, however, and on the edge of a great cornfield far from any station, the passengers gathered together to do reverence to the memory of President McKinley. Rev. William Bell, of Dayton, Ohio, was present and conducted a short, but impressive religious service. There were about 100 people in the audience, representing many different states. Some of the women wept at the eloquent words of the impromptu prayer, and the men, including the train crew from engineer to flagman, stood with uncovered heads. The sky was clear from horizon to horizon and the wind was the only accompaniment to the speaker's words."

General Notes.

Three sections of Pennsylvania train No. 15 carried many who were returning home from Canton. Among the passengers were Gen. Nelson A. Miles and Mayor Harrison, of Chicago.

The Pennsylvania wreck crew performed a remarkably quick piece of work in cleaning up the wreck near Dunkirk. The smashup occurred at 7:10 in the morning and although 12 cars loaded with grain were derailed, they were all in place and the tracks cleared at 12:30. One car which had a broken axle, and was the cause of the wreck, was upset and thrown clear of the road bed.

Work is to be begun next week on the erection of the largest arch railway bridge west of Pittsburgh. It will span the bridge at Broken Sword, O., near Nevada, and will be wide enough to accommodate double tracks. The bridge will be a solid masonry, 70 feet long and forty feet high, twenty feet longer than the bridge spanning the river at Columbia City, which is the largest of any now in use on the Pennsylvania lines. A run-around bridge will be erected for use during the building of the new one, and the masons will be able to work without interruption.

The C. H. & D. will have a special train at three o'clock tomorrow morning, carrying back to Detroit the members of the L. O. O. F., who were in attendance at the grand convocation at Indianapolis.

Chief Dispatcher John H. H. of the C. H. & D. is still at Mt. Clemens and it will probably be some time before he has sufficiently recruited to return to his desk. He writes home that he is not improving as rapidly as was hoped for under the treatment received.

Wm. Rhinesmith's Family Worried

for Him in Lima.

William Rhinesmith, of north Washington street, is gone and where he is his family would like to know, says the Delphos Herald. He has not been seen here for four days past and his son went to Lima this afternoon, to look for him. When asked by the reporter if he had heard from his father, the boy said that he had not, but afterward said that he knew his father was in Lima, as he had received a letter from him Thursday evening.

Rhinesmith has a wife and two children here. Their scare may be unfounded, as he may have taken a sudden notion to go somewhere for a short visit without deeming it necessary to notify his family of his intentions.

SURPRISE

Given Rev. Wolfinger, of Calvary Reformed Church.

The Christian Endeavor society of Calvary Reformed church gave their pastor, Rev. A. D. Wolfinger and wife a complete surprise last evening. It is just one year since the pastor organized the society which has been one of the greatest auxiliaries of the church. The young people kindly remembered the date and made their way to the pastor's residence bringing not only the necessities for the inner man, but glad hearts, good wishes and a token of their appreciation in a picture of him in whose strength the society exists. After the evening, passed in social enjoyment, had merged into the late night, the happy party said good night.

CURES KIDNEYS AND LIVER.

SANURY

Do not neglect any kidney or urinary trouble. Do not think that your case is different—that you will get well in a little while. Do not think that because you have used lithia water or some form of lithia, and possibly obtained some relief, that you are cured. You must remove the cause of these serious diseases. SANURY is the one and only positive, permanent cure for kidney disease, urinary diseases and the attendant complaints, such as turbid, foul urine, inability to retain urine, burning sensations, pain in the back and side, stone in the kidney and gravel. SANURY will effectively remove the cause of all these. Then, and then only, is it possible for you to get well.

All Druggists. $1.00 per Bottle. STIMMS MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

A Strong Woman

My wife was sick for three years. We tried everything without relief and spent much money. My wife tried Wine of Cardui and four bottles cured her. She took two more bottles, knowing she would have to work hard during the hay harvest. She attended to all her household duties and loaded and unloaded all the hay. This medicine gave her strength. Formerly she was weak and tired and could hardly get about, but since she has been taking Wine of Cardui she feels better and stronger than when 20 years of age. JOS. A. EISENHAFER.

Mrs. Eisenhafer had tried everything during her three years sickness and had spent considerable money. She was weak and could hardly get about for three years before she took

WINE OF CARDUI

Now, after taking the Wine of Cardui, she can work with her husband in the hay field. That is hard work, but it is not as injurious to a woman's health as labor in stores, factories and offices where thousands of girls are closely confined year after year. With the aid of Wine of Cardui a woman can do any reasonable work and enjoy good health. The health that Wine of Cardui brings makes a woman vigorous in body and mind. Freed from these terrible debilitating pains a woman grows well and strong naturally. Wine of Cardui regulates the disordered menstruation and cures leucorrhoea, falling of the womb and periodical pains in the head and back caused by standing or sitting a long time in the same position. Theodore's Black-Draught puts the bowels, stomach, liver, kidneys and blood in proper shape. Greatly increased strength and endurance is the natural result. Most cases are cured quickly. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui and 25 cent packages of Theodore's Black-Draught.

BACK FROM THE ARCTICS

Mrs. Peary Tells of Journey North on Relief Ship.

PLANNING TO FIND THE EXPLORER

Long Winter Passed at Peary Harbor. With Her Husband Only One Hundred and Fifty Miles Away. Did Not Know She Was on the Windward—To Go Again in Spring.

From the land of perpetual ice and cold, leaving her indomitable husband facing a long and dreary arctic winter, Mrs. Robert E. Peary, wife of Lieutenant Peary, arrived in Portland, Me., the other evening. Having passed two winters with her husband at Orisko, where her daughter Marie was born, Mrs. Peary did not care to pass another winter within the arctic circle, nor did her courageous husband care to have her.

In the summer of 1900 Mrs. Peary sailed from North Sydney, C. E., on the ship Windward, which was sent by the Peary Arctic club with stores and supplies for the explorer. Aug. 19, 1900, the Windward reached Etah, which had been Peary's winter quarters, and found instructions to proceed to Smith's sound it possible to meet Peary. At Cape Sabine the Windward's course northward was stopped by ice, and she went into winter quarters in Peary harbor.

"I tried my best to communicate with my husband," said Mrs. Peary to a reporter of the Boston Herald, "but to no purpose. The sailors on the Windward were not available for work on the ice, and the best of Eskimos who might be used could not be had, as they lived on the other side of the sound from where we were. The winter passed away slowly, but not unpleasantly.

"When the long arctic night began to break away, I began to send out such expeditions as I could to find Mr. Peary. At last I got some good Eskimos, and they were accompanied by two sailors who volunteered to go with them. They proceeded toward Port Conger, but had not gone more than sixty miles when they met Mr. Peary and his two companions on the way south. Mr. Peary had wintered at Port Conger, only 150 miles away, but I did not know that, nor did he know that the Windward was so near him.

"Mr. Peary had no idea that I was to be on the Windward. He did not know that I had come north to see him until he met our searching party. It was night when he came. I was asleep in my room in the cabin when suddenly I heard a person jump on deck right over my head. 'Steward, steward,' I shouted, 'open the door! Mr. Peary is there.' I knew it was Mr. Peary, for when I went up on the Erik in 1892 he came on board to just that way, and I recognized his step. It was the 6th of May of that year and his birthday too. 'What he accomplished Mr. Bridgeham has told you better than ever I can. In a general way I may say that he has established the fact that Greenland's farthest point north is 83.39 degrees. Between it and the north pole is an open sea. Mr. Peary went to 83.30 degrees north and was forced to return because of broken ice. This coming summer he will make an attempt to reach the north pole, going over that same route."

Mr. Peary did not know of his mother's death, which occurred in Portland, until the Erik conveyed the news to him. Neither did he know of the death of his baby daughter, who died eight months after he started on his trip, three years ago, until his wife told him of it. Mrs. Peary has gone to her home in Washington to wait until another spring, when she will once more accompany the Windward on the relief trip.

BOSSSED LATE PRESIDENT.

Story of Mr. McKinley's Humor During His Sickness.

Stories revealing the president's quaint humor during his last week on earth are being told from day to day in Buffalo. This story comes from one of the consulting physicians who, while the president's condition the early part of the week was regarded as serious, did not wish to see it in print. On Monday, Sept. 9, when every one was happy over the apparent improvement in the president's condition, Drs. Mann, Rixey, Park and Myer were in his room feeling his pulse and obtaining the necessary data for a bulletin.

"The president kept up a running conversation with us," said the New York Tribune's informant, "and for very good reasons we did not want him to exhaust his strength uselessly. One of the doctors stepped to the bedside and said: 'Mr. McKinley, you must not talk. We have decided you must not talk.' The president's big, dark eyes were bent on the one who gave the order," said the narrator, "and without moving a muscle of his face he said, 'Well, I suppose you gentlemen think you don't have a chance very often to boss the president of the United States, and now you are improving your opportunity.' The shot was so unexpected that the doctors looked at each other in pleased amazement, and when they once got outside the sickroom they all had a good laugh."

Improving the Waste Places.

It is proposed, says the Pittsburg Times, to send camel-like caravans across the desert of Sahara by carrying the goods on automobiles instead of on the "ships of the desert."

An American Innovation.

It appears, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal, that it is the school-marm that follows the flag.

GAINES ON ASSASSINATION.

Author Calls It Nature's Awful Punishment of Dark Past's Offenses.

"It is our duty, our sad duty, as Englishmen, to speak with all sympathy and candor of the grave event which has befallen the United States in the death of President McKinley." Thus spoke Hall Caine, the author of "The New York Journal."

"His death has nothing to do with America's glorious constitution or his administration or her government. Such crimes in a free country are worse blows to freedom than in countries which are not free. Let us in the midst of our just and natural indignation be careful lest we do injury to liberal institutions. Because a subject for Lombroso has killed the elected of the people let us not cry 'Anarchy' at every movement of the spirit of reform. That is too often the sequel to such mad outbursts of violence. They put back the clock which marks the progress of the world. Let us go on educating the people, knowing that education is death to all damnable illusions born of the doctrine of physical force. It is only in the half light that the man of weak sight sees phantoms."

"America has for a third time lost her president by the hand of an assassin, but she is too great and courageous to go back on the course she has taken in the forefront of the nations. Not by coercive measures, not by limiting the rights and powers of association, but by continually enlarging them, will she defend herself from the madman who dream of rebuilding society by burying it under ruins. She will go on with the work of civilization until the entire nation realizes that conflict of intellects alone is human and that to fight otherwise than with the brain is to lower ourselves to the level of the brutes."

"Meantime if America is in any degree paying the penalty of her free institutions let us assure her she has the sympathy and admiration of the civilized world, and if her chosen men, the representatives of the people, fall martyrs to the insane acts of immigrants from oppressed nationalities the world sees that she is reaping the bitter fruit of centuries of oppression in less enlightened lands."

"It is all terribly cruel, but it is the cruelty of natural law, and we must bow our heads before nature's awful punishment of the offenses of the dark past. The assassination of President McKinley, honored servant and not master of his country, is a frightful sequel to the tyrannies of tyrants dead and gone. If I know anything of President McKinley, the last thing he could have desired was that his death at the hands of a misguided fanatic calling himself an anarchist should impede by one day or one hour the progress of the world."

WOMEN'S DRESS NOVELTIES

Silk Stockings, With Shoes to Match. The Latest London Fashion.

Some little time ago there was a discussion in the London papers on the question of women's dress, says the New York Herald's correspondent. All sorts of letters were sent to the weekly society papers on the subject, some smart women declaring that it cost them from £500 to £1,000 a year to dress suitably for the circles in which they moved.

Since then there seems to be no end of money spent on trousseaus. I have just heard of a bride whose name I am not permitted to mention who paid £500 for her lingerie alone. Another luxurious item of her trousseaus was forty-eight pairs of stockings and the very finest silk shoes to match. This fashion of stockings and shoes to match has lately become very fashionable in London. Nearly all the best dressed women of London are taking it up.

There is another item which may interest lady readers. You have heard before about the discussions which from time to time have occupied the society and other journals about those long skirts with which women have been wont to assist scavengers in sweeping the streets. I have just been told that quite short dresses are to be worn for the coming autumn and winter—that is to say, for walking. Whether this has any connection with those fancy stockings with shoes to match, which I have mentioned I don't know, but evening dresses are by way of contrast to be longer than ever.

LAST RACE OF CRESCENTS.

Will Try to Lower Record on Oct. 3 and Then Retire.

The board of directors of the Pimlico race track received a telegram recently from George Ketchum to the effect that Crescents, the world's champion trotter, would race no more after he had tried to lower his mark at the Pimlico track in October, says a Buffalo dispatch to the New York World. Mr. Ketchum asserted positively that whether the great trotter succeeded in his attempt or not he would be retired from the track.

Thursday, Oct. 3, has been selected as the day upon which Crescents will try to lower the record. The track is now being put into first class shape for the performance, and it is confidently expected that the trotter will succeed.

Guaranteed Dinner Invitations.

It is seriously stated that the "latest fashion" in the issuing of dinner invitations is to back the card invitation with the printed menu of the dinner which you are requested the pleasure of eating. There are, of course, countless men who would welcome such an invitation, especially if it also included a guarantee as to the wines that would accompany the dinner, but it is to be feared that the menu invitation card will remain where it is at present.

DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY absolutely FREE, as we desire to help suffering humanity, and we want every woman to know how she can be permanently cured by Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. GIVEN UP BY PHYSICIANS.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured Mrs. J. Ackerly of Jersey City, who says: "Oh, how I wish I could speak personally with every woman who is in any way troubled with illness common to our sex, for I would advise them to use at once Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was not relieved and cured. There is no pain or ache peculiar to women which it will not drive away."

HOW TO TELL.—Take a bottle or tumbler and fill it with urine; let it stand twenty-four hours. If you find a sediment at the bottom or a milky or cloudy condition, something is wrong with your kidneys.

A desire to urinate often, a pain through the small of the back, or if your urine stains linen, these are all sure signs that the kidneys and bladder are affected.

There is a cure for these troubles, and it takes promptly it will save you a long illness and perhaps a surgical operation. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy quickly relieves and cures inability to hold urine, it overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night, and corrects the bad effects of whiskey and beer. It has cured hundreds of the most distressing cases.

A daughter of Mrs. Christina Beal, of Jonesport, Me., suffered greatly from female troubles. No doctor could help her. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy made her strong and well.

BOSSSES

Held the High Hand in the Republican County Convention.

Used Their Knives Freely

And Nominated Mayor McComb for Sheriff, Defeating Daniel Miller and David Hughes
---Had to Draft Candidates for Other Offices.

THE VICTIMS.

For Sheriff,
MAYOR McCOMB.

For Representative,
J. L. B. LEATHERMAN.

For Commissioner,
R. T. SUTTON.

For Treasurer,
THOS. H. JONES.

For Infirmary Director,
J. W. PELTIER.

For Coroner,
DR. A. S. RUDY.

Last night a select number of the wire pullers of the Hanna faction of the Republican party of Allen county, including Lou Ashton and Harry Bentley, met with Boss Hall in the postmaster's private office in the government building and selected a county ticket that was ratified by the county convention that was held in the assembly room at the court house this morning. They decided that it would be very bad policy to let the Foraker fellows get their "edge" in and while they all agreed that either Dan Miller or David Hughes would be stronger as a candidate for sheriff than Billy McComb they couldn't see how they could afford to allow Miller or Hughes to be nominated because the Foraker crowd and the independent voters wanted them. They decided that McComb should be the nominee and as the delegates arrived in the city this morning they were rounded up and told where to "head in". How effectively the knives were inserted into the aspirations of Miller and Hughes, the report of the convention will prove.

HANNA CROWD

Was in Charge of the Convention From Start to Finish.

The Hanna men are great fellows to get in on the ground floor and they were on the dot this morning. They took charge of the convention as soon as it opened and held it to the finish without giving the Foraker boys anything except a chance to vote for the candidates that the bosses ordered nominated. A. L. Belch, chairman of the county central committee called the meeting to order and named Hall's lieutenant, Charley Rumbaugh, for temporary chairman, J. W. Mowen for secretary and H. D. Campbell for assistant secretary. Rumbaugh made a little speech and then postmaster Hall, who is better known perhaps by the title of "Boss" Hall, moved to make the temporary organization permanent. He didn't wait for a second but put the motion and declared it carried all in one breath.

W. D. Harrison, a well known colored citizen who has been serving as a guard at the penitentiary, made a speech to the convention, stating that he had represented Allen county at the penitentiary with honor to the county and credit to himself and as a proof of his statement he read a letter of recommendation from Warden Darby, and then left it on the secretary's desk for the delegates to read. After he had concluded his remarks, Lieut. McCowan introduced a resolution placing the convention on record as being in favor of the colored guards at the penitentiary being treated with the same respect and favor that the white guards receive. The convention endorsed the resolution unanimously.

Resolutions Ordered.

Lou Ashton moved that the chair appoint a committee on resolutions and Rumbaugh appointed Jim Halfhill, J. G. Hirsch, Miner Atmure and Bert Campbell. W. L. Rogers was given Campbell's place as assistant secretary while the latter helped look over the resolutions that were prepared at the secret meeting held in Doc Hall's office last night.

M. A. Atmure reported that the county central committee had authorized the county convention to select delegates to the senatorial and judicial conventions. Doc Hall called for volunteers who were willing to go to the two conventions to stand up no one stood up and Lou Ashton relieved the embarrassing situation by moving that any old body who went to the convention be authorized to represent the G. O. P. of Allen county and vote for any one who was willing to be placed on the ticket. Lou's motion was carried.

PRISONERS

In the County Jail Cheered When McComb Was Nominated.

Rumbaugh called for nominations of candidates for sheriff and the secretary proceeded with the roll call. When Lima, Third ward, A, was called S. S. Wheeler nominated constable Dan Miller. Jim Halfhill stepped boldly to the front when Lima, Seventh ward, A, was called and said he couldn't enter into the public duty with very much spirit but he wanted to nominate his friend and neighbor, Billy McComb. He declared that McComb was a liberal hearted man who had given more coal to the poor people than all of the preachers and that he had given all of his salary away but had a good business that was bringing him money and could afford to lose the salary of the office of mayor. He admitted that McComb's administration as mayor had not been just as clean as it should be but said in spite of all Billy was a good fellow and the kind of a salve spreader who could get Democratic votes and that was all that the party cared about. He intimated that the Democrats were all crooks but at the same time Billy needs their votes this fall and he thought he could get more of them than Dan Miller or David Hughes could.

George Quail was the next orator and he appeared when Seventh ward, B, was called. He said something that sounded to a man up a tree as if the man who was to have made this last nomination speech had been frightened off of the trail by the bosses and he had been selected to nominate David Hughes without having time to prepare his speech. George is a pretty good off-hand speaker however and he received applause that was actually merited.

There were no more nominations and the roll was called on the casting of the ballots of the delegates. Then's when the Hanna fellow got in their work for McComb. They hustled around here and there and no one could get away from them. The result of the ballot was decisive and when Charley Rumbaugh declared McComb nominated, the prisoners over in the county jail being close enough to hear what was going on joined in the applause with their yells. The votes as cast by the various precincts for the candidates for sheriff were as follows:

In the City Police Department.

Harley and Caddy Matter Finally Brought to a Close Last Night.

One Member Was in Favor of Suspending the Men for Sixty Days, but Couldn't Get a Second to His Motion.

The city council at its adjourned session held last night, by almost a unanimous vote, adopted the report of the police committee, relative to the investigation of the charges recently preferred against chief Harley and sergeant Caddy and dismissed those two officers from the service of the city. There was little opposition to the committee's recommendation, the council being satisfied that the charges had been sustained and without regard to partisan politics they deemed it their duty to take at least this one step towards cleansing the public morals of the city.

The council did not convene until nearly 8 o'clock and all members responded to roll call except Messrs. Kline, McCauley and Jameson. Mr. Kline came in later.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

Messrs. Fred Herold and James O'Connor, were granted permission to store building material.

Petition for an arc lamp at Spring and Main streets was referred to the light committee.

Clerk reported bids on the paving of Brice and Richie avenues. Richie avenue, Trinidad Co. $4,666. Barber $4,386. Brice avenue, Trinidad Co. $3,744. Barber Co. $4,040. Referred to paving committee.

Mrs. Wilbur was given a remittance of excessive assessments for the paving of McKibben street.

Ordinance establishing grade for Scott street was passed.

Engineer was instructed to report on sewer for Jameson avenue.

Mr. Linderman moved that ten men be added to the sewer force to finish the work that has been ordered.

Solicitor said he had been asked time and again by people needing sewers for help and complaining of their construction where there are no houses. He declared he would enjoin such acts if persisted in.

Referred to sewer committee. Resolution to pave Scott street was passed.

Ordinance to grade south Elizabeth street was passed.

When the police committee's report recommending that police officers Harley and Caddy be dismissed from the service of the city was taken from the table and announced by the clerk Mr. Hoyt moved that it be adopted.

Mr. Kline objected to the committee fixing the penalty for the offenses committed by the two officers. He thought that the council should determine what the penalty should be.

The solicitor said that the adoption of the report would not dislodge the men; that a separate motion would be necessary. The report was then adopted, all members voting yes except Mr. Haeger.

Mr. Kline then moved to suspend the two officers for 60 days but got no second and a motion by Mr. Shannahan to dismiss both men was carried, all voting yes except Mr. Haeger.

M'CARTY

Had Troubles Also at Wapakoneta.

Was Fined $8.50 for an Escapade in That Town

And the Woman Who was With Him Came to This City to Secure Money With Which to Get Him Out of Jail.

Mark McCarty, the well known sporting man, who was arrested here and was fined in May's court yesterday morning for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, also figured very prominently in an escapade at Wapakoneta, concerning which the Auglaize Democrat says:

"A man who gave his name as Mark McCarty was arrested by Deputy Marshal Dietric on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He had a woman, whom he claimed to be his wife, had been brought over from St. Marys in a rig. They said they were on their way to Lima. The man was pretty well filled with liquor, but he induced the driver to stop in front of a saloon near the railroad in order to get a few more drinks. He only had one arm, and in attempting to carry out a tray containing several glasses of liquor he let the glasses slide off the tray onto the pavement, thus breaking the glasses and spilling the whisky. A quarrel with the barkeeper followed over payment for the glassware, and McCarty becoming noisy and abusive was arrested for creating a disturbance. Being arraigned before the mayor he was fined five dollars and costs, amounting in all to $8.50. He could not pay and was locked up for the night. His alleged wife, who remained with him during the trouble, tried to raise the money to pay the fine, and made trips to Lima and Moulton for that purpose, but did not succeed in getting him released until Saturday afternoon. McCarty said he was a telegraph operator from Birmingham, Ala., and that he had been spending a month's vacation with friends at Lima and vicinity. Outside of showing the effects of drink, he was gentlemanly looking and appeared to be an intelligent man. The woman who accompanied him seemed very much grieved over the young man's arrest and imprisonment. It was only another instance of how over indulgence in liquor will drag a man down."
